Department Vehicle Pursuit Analysis 2018

This analysis was conducted for the purpose of reviewing the Police Department's Vehicle Pursuits for the calendar year 2018. Vehicle pursuits are inherently dangerous to both the officers involved and the public. The Henderson Police Department takes its obligations seriously to provide the most effective and efficient police service with the least adverse impact on our citizens. The Henderson Police Department is committed to protecting our citizens, but at the same time ensuring the manner in which we do so does not place the public at risk to greater harm. This process requires continuous evaluation of the risks and benefits of each action. This analysis is conducted each year to comply with the Texas Law Enforcement Best Practice 7.14 and to attempt to identify methods for reducing the number of vehicle pursuits and the inherent risks involved.

Officers are trained by the department in pursuit tactics and emergency driving. However skilled an officer might be, the vehicle being pursued may not have a competent driver, may be under the influence of alcohol or drugs, or have impaired mental status.

Vehicle Pursuit Reporting Requirements

Texas Law Enforcement Best Practice 7.13 and Henderson Police Department Policy 7.15 (v) requires a written report be completed anytime an officer pursues a vehicle.

An officer, while in an authorized emergency vehicle, may initiate a vehicular pursuit when the suspect exhibits the intention to avoid apprehension by refusing to stop when directed to do so. A pursuit may also be initiated if the officer believes that the suspect, if allowed to escape, would pose a danger to human life or cause serious injury.

The on duty supervisor will ensure that all officers involved in a pursuit complete a PURSUIT REVIEW REPORT. The report will be completed before the end of the officer's tour of duty.

Any time an officer initiates a pursuit, department policy requires a supervisor be immediately notified by the dispatch center. The on-duty supervisor will retain authority over the pursuing officers of the department for the duration of the pursuit, and shall order the pursuit to be discontinued should the risks outweigh the benefits of apprehending the offender. Both the on-duty supervisor and the initiating officer are charged with continuous evaluation of the pursuit as it occurs.

Each individual PURSUIT REVIEW REPORT is immediately reviewed by the officer's supervisor, and through the chain of command up to the Chief of Police. At the time of the incident, the pursuit is reviewed to ensure the use was appropriate and within the guidelines of department policy. If the officer initiated a pursuit inappropriately, a departmental investigation is required, and the officer may receive additional training. In some cases, disciplinary action may be taken. This annual analysis is not intended to determine if an officer acted inappropriately, but to identify department wide trends that may suggest needed or necessary changes in policy, training, equipment, or supervision.

All pursuit reports will be attached to a copy of the Offense Report for review up the chain of command. Once the Chief of Police signs the report, it will then be given to the Patrol Commander to retain for records.
